

Christopher Villarreal, Smart Grid Staff Lead, California Public Utilities Commission

Chris Villarreal is a Regulatory Analyst in the Policy and Planning Division at the California Public Utilities Commission. He is the Staff Team Lead on the CPUC's Smart Grid proceeding. He has been involved as part of Commission staff on a number of issues including demand response, dynamic pricing, direct access, and Smart Grid.

Prior to joining the Commission, he was an Paralegal in Washington, D.C., primarily focused on energy matters before FERC. He has a BA in History from Baylor University.